DETAILED ACTION

This office action is responsive to communication filed October 9, 2008. Claim 1 is currently amended, and claims 8-21 are cancelled. Therefore claims 1-7 are pending in this application.

Specification

1. The specification is objected to as failing to provide proper antecedent basis for the claimed subject matter. See 37 CFR 1.75(d)(1) and MPEP § 608.01(o). Correction of the following is required: Claim 1 includes the term “call-flow application,” however this term does not appear in the specification.

Claim Objections

2. Claim 2 is objected to because of the following informalities: Claim 2 recites the limitation “displaying the grammar files when a user selects the grammar files”. This limitation is optional stated because the displaying only occurs if/when a user selects a grammar file. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Art Unit: 2164

4. Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

5. Claim 1 recites a call flow development graphical user interface in the preamble of the claim, and a call-flow application in lines 8 and 9 of the claim. It is unclear as to whether the call flow development GUI is the same as the call-flow application. It is also unclear as to what is meant by terms “call flow graphical user interface” and “call flow application”.

6. Claim 1 also recites the limitation “wherein each user-defined grammar file was written by a user....and each built-in grammar was available when the call-flow application was installed. This limitation is unclear because it recites actions that occur in the past, but that are not included in the claim. For example, claim 1 recites grammar files that were written by a user and a call-flow application that was installed, but does not recite a user writing grammar files or installing a call-flow application.

7. Claim 2 recites the limitation “displaying the grammar files when a user selects the grammar files”. However, claim 1, lines 14-16, also recites a step of displaying grammar files. Thus, it is unclear as to what will be displayed in claim 2 if the files are already displayed in claim 1.

8. Claims 2-7 are rejected as being dependent upon rejected claim 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

9. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Art Unit: 2164

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. Claim 1 is directed to a method of arranging grammar files in a presentation list. However, claim 1 does not include a step of storing some type of data in a computer memory, or does not specify that the method is implemented in a computer. As such, claim 1 is rejected as being non-statutory. The Examiner suggests adding the term "computer implemented method" to the preamble of the claim, and including a step of storing data in a computer memory.

Claims 2-7 are rejected as being dependent upon rejected claim 1.

Response to Arguments

10. Applicant's arguments, see pages 6-8, filed October 9, with respect to the rejection(s) of claims 1-7 under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made.
